2.2.1- The institution assesses the learning levels of the students and organizes special Programs for advances learners and slow learners

Sonari College is committed to holistic learning, addressing the needs of both advanced and slower learners. From induction programs to counseling sessions, the institution organizes a variety of activities, including inter-departmental and intra-departmental seminars, workshops, and tutorial classes, all designed to benefit students. Group assignments foster collaboration between fast and slow learners, ensuring that every student actively participates, presents their work, and develops essential skills such as public speaking and critical thinking. To further support slower learners, the college provides additional resources, such as extra computer lab sessions and personalized guidance, cultivating an environment where every student can reach their full potential.
